Georgia Hospital Association 2019 Membership Network Directory
GHA’s government relations team works at the state and federal levels to advocate on behalf of Georgia’s hospitals. GHA’s legislative priorities include preserving and enhancing access to health care for all Georgians; protecting the health-planning process, certificate of need; supporting adequate reimbursement for hospitals; and enhancing behavioral health resources.

GHA represents the financial interests of our members when working with various health care payer sources, including Medicaid, Medicare and commercial insurers. The health care finance staff monitors and acts on federal and state legislative issues that can financially impact hospitals. They also provide financial information that is helpful in advocacy efforts and fiscal planning.

HosPAC is now GHAPAC!
GHAPAC is a statewide, non-profit organization formed to promote legislative and political action to preserve quality health care in Georgia. It is an independent organization not affiliated with any political party.

The activities and funds of GHAPAC are governed by the GHAPAC Executive Committee, which is comprised of representatives from hospitals and health systems throughout the state.

The Executive Committee is responsible for the distribution of GHAPAC funds to support candidates on a non-partisan basis. Leaders of hospitals/health systems who have met their annual goal may have an opportunity to deliver GHAPAC checks to local legislators.

Support is given after a careful evaluation of each candidate's qualifications for office, electability, issue philosophy and voting record, as well as recommendations from the local hospital community.

GHAPAC actively seeks the involvement of its members in carrying out its functions, including encouraging members' recommendations regarding candidates to support.

GHAPAC shares eligible contributions received with the American Hospital Association PAC in support of candidates for federal offices. For more information on which contributions are eligible to be shared with AHAPAC, contact Lindsey Cason at lason@gha.org.

Hospital leaders in Georgia have the responsibility to promote the health care issues that provide for the safety of our patients and the viability of our health care system.

GHAPAC is an extremely important tool for these advocacy efforts.

Individual donations help us support state and federal candidates who have displayed a willingness to work with Georgia hospitals and are willing to protect the services we provide.

These contributions help us educate elected officials and government staff regarding good health care policy and enact regulations that provide for the safety of our communities.

Through GHAPAC, we are able to build and maintain crucial relationships at all levels of government. Our efforts are enhanced by an honest reputation of advocating for the safety of all Georgians.

Data Services

GHA offers a number of reporting tools that build off a single-state mandated submission of data to the Georgia Discharge Data System. GHA works to offer a one-stop shop via a secure web-based platform to provide analytics for hospitals, including strategic planning, finance and policy, and quality-readmission and hospital-acquired condition (HAC) reports. In addition, Quality Works, a performance measurement system helps hospitals collect, report and analyze clinical quality data for the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services and the Joint Commission for the Hospital Quality Reporting Program.

Rural Health Care

The Center for Rural Health is a department within GHA that represents the interests of Georgia’s small and rural hospitals. Its mission is to represent the needs of these hospitals in a manner that promotes accessibility to high-quality and cost-efficient health care. The center acts as a central agency for the study, discussion, resolution, and dissemination of ideas and information that addresses problems faced by small and rural hospitals.

Education Services

GHA provides timely and cost-effective educational conferences, workshops, webinars and modular training throughout the year. These programs ensure that health care professionals remain up-to-date on the ever-changing health care landscape. Education themes include efficient and safe care of patients and their families as well helping hospitals carry out their missions.

Community Health

Diabetes
Among all the measures that hospitals use to determine health status, diabetes has one of the highest rates, affects the most patients, is the most costly, compares least favorably among national benchmarks and trends in the wrong direction.

GHA has a partnership with the Georgia Department of Public Health, the Centers for Disease Control & Prevention, the American Medical Association, and Emory School of Public Health to provide funding for hospitals to engage and manage diabetic and pre-diabetic patients in the community prior to an acute health crisis requiring a hospitalization.

Emergency Preparedness

GHA serves as contractor for multiple federal and state government programs associated with agencies like the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Georgia Departments of Public Health and Community Services, and the Emory School of Public Health.

Through its close working relationship with these agencies and its membership of nearly every licensed hospital in the state, GHA plays a vital role in implementing new programs aimed at ensuring the health of Georgians. GHA maintains an infrastructure consisting of 14 Regional Healthcare Coalitions. These coalitions facilitate effective communication to support a response during an emergency or disaster. The partnership with the Department of Public Health provides GHA an effective conduit to distribute hundreds of thousands of reimbursement dollars to participating hospitals for their emergency preparedness activities.

Hospitals

Hospital Improvement Innovation Network (HIIN)
Through this initiative, GHA works with 97 hospitals to reduce all-cause inpatient harm by 20 percent and readmissions by 12 percent. GHA develops learning collaboratives for hospitals; conducts intensive training programs to help hospitals make patient care safer; and tracks and monitors hospitals’ progress in meeting quality improvement goals.

Medicare Rural Hospital Flexibility Program (FLEX)
This program aims to improve access to preventive and emergency health care services for rural populations. The Medicare Beneficiary Quality Improvement Project (MBQIP) is an initiative within FLEX to support quality improvement (QI) work within small rural hospitals.

Small Rural Hospital Improvement Grant Program (SHIP)
This program provides funding to more than 1,600 participating hospitals in 47 participating State Offices of Rural Health (SORH) to help small rural hospitals participate in various Affordable Care Act (ACA) delivery system reforms.

Infection Prevention

GHA employees an infection prevention specialist and often administers special programs, such as Infection Prevention “Boot Camps” to orient new hospital staff members and to update established hospital staff members on the latest best practices.

TeamSTEPPS

TeamSTEPPS is a nationally renown program that helps hospitals establish a culture that uses a systematic approach for all communications, situation monitoring, and leadership. These proven systems aim to reduce patient harm; increase staff, patient and family engagement; improve staff retention and satisfaction; and reduce cost.

Outpatient Physician Practices

Through a unique program by funded the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation, GHA employs staff to provide quality improvement services to both member-based physician practices as well as practicing outside our membership. These services assist practices with operational improvement, MIPS compliance, and population health management in an effort to improve quality and prepare them for risk-based contracts.
Membership Services

GHA hosts 11 affiliated societies that promote and enhance the practice of a given profession in a health care setting. Spanning several health care disciplines, GHA affiliated societies provide a forum for members to exchange information on current practices and to explore the impact of health care issues on their professions.
