Liberty Regional Medical Center Honored with Silver Safety Award

HINESVILLE, Ga. – Liberty Regional Medical Center (LRMC) has been recognized with the Silver Safety Award from the Georgia Hospital Association Workers' Compensation Self-Insurance Fund, recognizing the hospital's outstanding commitment to creating a safe workplace for employees while delivering exceptional care to patients.

The Silver Safety Award honors healthcare organizations that demonstrate excellence in workplace safety and risk management. Recipients are recognized for maintaining low workplace injury rates while fostering a culture where safety is woven into every aspect of daily operations.

"Safety is at the heart of everything we do," said Derek Rozier, CEO of LRMC. "This recognition reflects the dedication of our entire team to protecting one another, our patients and our community. When our employees have a safe environment to work in, they are able to provide the highest quality care to every person who walks through our doors."

The award recognizes LRMC's continued investment in employee education, proactive safety practices and a culture of accountability that empowers staff to identify risks, prevent injuries and continuously improve workplace safety.
