Morgan Medical Center Welcomes New Chief Medical Officer and General Surgeon

Dr. Sergio Mejias Brings Decades of Expertise to Nationally-Recognized Rural Hospital

March 31, 2026 (Madison) — Morgan Medical Center — Morgan County’s nationally-recognized hospital and Level IV Trauma Center — welcomes board-certified general surgeon Dr. Sergio Mejias as its new chief medical officer (CMO) and key addition to the Outpatient Clinics’ surgical team.

With Dr. Mejias providing both leadership and multiple decades of surgical expertise, patients can continue choosing Morgan Medical Center with confidence.

“As a patient focused center of excellence, Morgan Medical Center continues to move forward with that mission thanks to the addition of Dr. Mejias,” says Ralph A. Castillo, CPA, CEO of Morgan Medical Center. “His impressive track record and leadership skills will be a huge asset to our hospital, helping us provide high-level, compassionate care to our neighbors who need it most.”

Dr. Mejias dedicates his career to providing optimal, patient-centered surgical care. As a result, he is recognized as a frontrunner for performing complex and minimally invasive surgeries in Georgia.

He is highly experienced in both open and minimally invasive techniques, including advanced laparoscopic and robotic surgery. Using the da Vinci Surgical System, Dr. Mejias has performed more than 1,000 robotic procedures. His areas of expertise include minimally invasive colon resections and small bowel surgery; foregut procedures such as stomach and hiatal hernia surgery, thyroid and parathyroid surgery; laparoscopic and robotic hernia repairs; complex ventral hernia repair; anorectal procedures; and more.

Dr. Mejias earned his medical degree and completed his general surgery residency at the Medical College of Georgia. He has practiced general and colorectal surgery in Athens, Georgia, since 1999. From 2016 to 2026, Dr. Mejias served as chief of surgery at St. Mary’s Hospital in Athens before joining Morgan Medical Center.
