Mountain Lakes Medical Center Named Healthcare Provider of the Year in Rabun County

Clayton, GA — Mountain Lakes Medical Center is proud to announce that it has been voted Healthcare Provider of the Year in Rabun County. This distinguished honor reflects the hospital's unwavering commitment to delivering exceptional patient care, promoting community well-being, and providing outstanding service throughout the region.

"This recognition truly reflects the unwavering dedication and compassion of our entire team," said the leadership at Mountain Lakes Medical Center. "From Mountain Lakes Medical Center itself to our Rural Health Clinic and The Wildcat Clinic, along with our skilled physicians, nurses, and support staff—every individual plays a vital role in providing high-quality, patient-centered care to the community we proudly serve."

The award highlights the broad range of services offered by Mountain Lakes Medical Center, including 24/7 emergency care, advanced imaging technology, outpatient services, environmental services (EVS), and more. The hospital continues to invest in innovative care and local partnerships to ensure that residents of Rabun County and surrounding communities receive the highest standard of treatment close to home.

Mountain Lakes Medical Center extends heartfelt thanks to the community for this recognition and remains committed to delivering exceptional care—for today, and for years to come.
