Southeast Georgia Health System Volunteer Services Present Scholarships to Teen Volunteers

BRUNSWICK, Georgia: August 12, 2025 – Southeast Georgia Health System Volunteer Services recently presented $1,000 scholarship awards to five graduating high school seniors who served as volunteers for the Health System and who plan to pursue degrees in the health care field.

Camden Campus Volunteer Services scholarship recipients are Elisabeth Kinney, Braydon Smith and Christian Tortorici. All three recipients are graduates of Camden County High School. Brunswick Campus Volunteer Services scholarship recipients are Jordan Deratto and Kelsey Lewis.

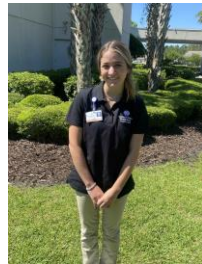

Jordan Deratto, is a graduate of Banks Academy (Home School) and will be attending Coastal Pines Technical College to study Medical Assisting.

Kelsey Lewis is a graduate of Glynn Academy and will be attending Georgia College and State University to study Occupational Therapy.

Elisabeth Kinney will be attending the University of South Carolina Honors College to study Nursing.

Braydon Smith will be attending the University of Georgia to study Biochemistry and Molecular Sciences.

Christian Tortorici will be attending the University of Florida to study Biology (Pre-Med).

The Teen Volunteer program is designed for students, ages 16-18, who enjoy helping others and have a desire to learn more about health care and volunteerism. Graduating high school seniors who serve at least 20 hours through the Teen Volunteer program and plan to pursue careers in health care are encouraged to apply for the Volunteer Services scholarships offered at the Brunswick and Camden campuses.
